UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ceylon's chief U.N. delegate said Friday he expects to ask next Tuesday for a special session of the U.N. General Assembly to take up the treatment of Buddhists in South Viet Nam. Ceylon is a predominantly Buddhist country.

R. S. S. Gunewardene, head of the Ceylon delegation, told newsmen he wants the assembly to hold that the government of Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem, a Roman Catholic, is violating the Buddhists' human rights and to call for a halt to the alleged violations.

Sgt. York Seriously Ill

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin C. York, 75, Tennessee's mountain hero of World War I, was placed on the seriously ill list at a hospital Friday, Dr. W. C. Williams announced.

York was hospitalized several weeks ago for treatment of bedsores. Williams said his temperature had started rising early Friday and that he had become "more unresponsive to his surroundings."

York suffered a stroke several years ago and has been bedridden since.

He is credited with slaying 25 Germans and taking 132 others captive in a single engagement in World War I. He is a Medal of Honor winner.

Officials Discuss Refugees Seizure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is discussing with Britain measures which they may take to protect Cuban refugees from seizure by Castro military forces in the British Bahamas Islands near Cuba.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed the consultations Friday in talking at a news conference about the Cuban raiding Tuesday of one of the islands and capturing 19 of 29 Cubans who were fleeing their homeland.

The State Department termed the seizure by two Cuban warships and a helicopter kidnapping. The British government expected to protest in Havana the violation of its territory if a current investigation verifies first reports.

During the capture, U.S. aircraft circled overhead but did not interfere. Later, a British vessel picked up the 19 refugees who had avoided capture and turned them over to U.S. Coast Guard ships, which delivered them to Key West, Fla.

Miss Iceland Wins Honors

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Miss Iceland, a tall, slim blonde from Keflavik, was named Miss International Beauty Friday night at the International Beauty Congress.

She's Gudrun Bjarnadottir, 20, a college student, who measures 5'8-3/4.

Runners-up in order, were Miss England, Diana Westbury, 19, of Derbyshire; Miss Austria, Xenia Doppler, 19, of Vienna; Miss American Beauty, Joyce Bryan, 19, of Miami, Fla., and Miss Korea, Yoo-Mi Choi, 20, of Soon Chun City.

One Killed, 25 Hurt In Crash

BETHEL, Conn. (AP)—A woman passenger was killed and more than 25 persons were injured Friday when a self-propelled railroad car smashed into the rear of a parked freight train.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Everett Hurlburt of Roxbury.

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy arrived by jet from Washington Friday for a weekend of relaxation with his family at his summer home on Cape Cod.

He was accompanied by his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Investors in railroads showed renewed faith that something could be worked out to avert a nationwide rail strike Aug. 29 and rail issues rose again Friday bolstering another irregular stock market advance.

The Dow Jones industrial average made a small gain of .77 at 719.32.

Of 1,297 issues traded, 573 advanced and 440 declined. New highs for the year totaled 72 and new lows 14.

Volume was 4.16 million shares compared with 4.99 million Thursday.

U.S., Soviet Trade Of Viewers Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk voiced doubt Friday about any U.S.-Soviet agreement on exchanging observers against surprise attack if this is linked to troop cutbacks in Germany.

About the time Rusk was expressing this reservation at a news conference, word arrived from the Geneva disarmament conference that the Soviets are demanding some withdrawal of troops from East and West Germany as a condition for an agreement on exchanging observers.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev suggested in a July 19 speech that each side station observers at the other's key ports, railway stations, road junctions and airfields. This was viewed then as the brightest prospect for a tension-easing East-West accord to follow up the agreement on a limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

Rusk held open Friday the possibility for further pacts on specific matters and during the day U.S.-Soviet agreement was announced on steps for limited cooperation in weather and communications satellite endeavors.

On the exchange of observers to guard against surprise attack, however, Rusk said linking that to a reduction of force "makes it a very, very unpromising prospect" for early agreement.

One Question

One of the questions that the U.S. negotiator at Geneva, Charles C. Stelle, can discuss further with Russian negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin will be whether the observer exchange proposal is going to be related to other and more difficult questions, such as levels of forces, or nuclear-free zones, or questions of that sort," Rusk said.

Khrushchev included no tight link between the various disarmament proposals he mentioned in his July 19 speech. But in 1958 when surprise-attack issues were being considered at an international conference in Geneva, the Soviets said other disarmament measures like force reductions and nuclear-free zoning in Central Europe should be included. The conference ended without agreement.

Nonetheless, Rusk noted further East-West talks lie ahead including his scheduled discussions with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at the United Nations this fall, and said: "I think that this surprise attack field is one that we might be able to build further on."

The United States is not planning to cut back its armed forces in West Germany, Rusk added.

In 1959 Profumo polled 26,146 voted against 12,017 for Labor's James Stronach.

Not Pleased

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's party headquarters had to be satisfied with victory but in no mood to be pleased. A big win might have lent weight to the idea of an autumn general election. The close count was interpreted in most political quarters as bound to put such ambitions aside. A general election is not mandatory until October 1964.

With the general election in mind, the political analysts saw a lot more in the results than the mere retention of a seat in a by-election. Macmillan's Tories had to note their vote dropped by 24.9 per cent since the 1959 triumph.

The candidates here steered clear of Profumo's sex life, his denial of his affair with Miss Keeler, and subsequent admissions which led to his resignation in disgrace.

The agreement came soon after police had issued an afternoon alert to meet any further demonstration by the racial groups that have plagued East St. Louis for several days.

About 300 Negro children and a smattering of adults cheered and clapped when the announcement was made.

Rex Carr, an attorney and spokesman for the bankers, said: "Thirteen will be hired on a part-time trainee basis. As vacancies occur, during the normal operating of the business institutions, they will be hired regularly."

The attorney said seven more Negroes will be hired as soon as they can be screened for jobs that now exist in the East St. Louis banks.

Halt Demonstration

Both Carr and Alfred Williams, field representative for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the settlement would necessarily halt a demonstration planned Friday night.

"In the future, the hiring of financial institutions here will be for persons of qualification, regardless of race or creed," Carr said.

K's Bid Depends On Withdrawal

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin said Premier Khrushchev's Moscow proposal for an exchange of ground observation posts to prevent surprise attack was conditioned on a withdrawal of troops from East and West Germany.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle told the 17-nation disarmament conference America would be prepared to accept Khrushchev's proposal, but his country has made it quite clear it is not prepared to negotiate withdrawal of troops from Germany.

The proposal, made by Khrushchev in a Kremlin speech on July 19, included observation posts at airfields, railway stations, highway junctions and ports.

Reiterates Points

Stelle on Friday invited the Soviet delegation to elaborate on the proposals, but Tsarapkin merely reiterated points from Khrushchev's speech.

He did say, however, there was a concrete possibility of reaching agreement had expressed hope there would be a fruitful followup to the limited nuclear test ban breakthrough.

In accepting Khrushchev's original proposal, Stelle said the United States would not insist on its proposed additional safety measures, linked to a ground observation system, such as aerial observation, mobile ground observation teams and overlapping radar.

Rails Strike Sidetracked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acceptance by both sides of binding arbitration of the two key issues Friday apparently killed the threat of a nationwide railroad strike which has been hanging over the country for months.

The break, which came only two weeks before an Aug. 29 strike deadline, appeared to have cleared the way to voluntary settlement of the lingering work-rules dispute which has defied solution four years.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz announced the acceptance of his proposal—first made Aug. 2—that the questions of firemen's jobs and train-crew makeup be submitted to an arbitration board made up of representatives of the carriers, the five on-train unions and two public members.

General Approval

The board would make a final decision, binding on both parties, only on the firemen's jobs and train-crew makeup. But throughout the battle over what the railroads call featherbedding there has been general agreement that if these two problems could be solved, the parties could agree on all lesser issues.

The break in the long stalemate appeared to have taken Congress off a very hot political-economic seat.

President Kennedy in late July proposed legislation to turn the dispute over to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which would have decided work-rules issues for a two-year interim while the parties continued negotiations for a permanent, agreed settlement.

Senate and House Commerce committees held hearings in which the carriers endorsed the pending resolution and the unions denounced it as compulsory arbitration.

Reluctant

Both committees obviously were reluctant to endorse the President's proposal; yet they shared the White House view that a strike would be an intolerable blow to the economy. So they delayed any vote and urged the parties anew to reach a settlement voluntarily.

These renewed efforts produced no visible results.

At the core of the dispute are the jobs of about 32,000 firemen on yard engines and freight trains—passenger train firemen are not affected.

The railroads say these jobs and some others are not necessary in these days of the diesel locomotive and automation. They say they are featherbed assignments and cost the carriers some $600 million a year in unnecessary operating costs. The unions insist the jobs are necessary to safety and to avoid unreasonable work loads.

Chiefs Of Staff Endorse N-Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay joined the other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in endorsing the limited test ban treaty Friday. But he was pictured as more reluctant and "far more concerned" than the other military chiefs.

Several members of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee gave newsmen descriptions along those lines after LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, was questioned by the group in secret.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee simultaneously heard endorsement of the pact by Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency. He spoke behind closed doors with members of the Armed Services and Atomic Energy committees sitting in.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee told newsmen he thinks McCone's testimony reduced opposition to the treaty to ban all nuclear tests except those underground.

Less Than 20 Against

After a week of his committee's hearings, Fulbright said he now believes there would be less than 20 votes against Senate ratification. Earlier, Fulbright had said the vote might be 80-20, well over the required two-thirds majority.

His committee, he told reporters, should be ready to act within two weeks.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said LeMay "had some very grave reservations" and expressed far greater concern than other members of the joint chiefs who testified earlier before the Armed Services Committee's watchdog group.

As for the joint chiefs' unanimous public endorsement of the treaty, Goldwater, an Air Force Reserve major general, declared: "I just don't think the military have their hearts in this."

"It's And Buts"

Goldwater said "there are lots of ifs and buts" and added: "I have yet to find any real enthusiasm for this treaty even by the administration witnesses."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the subcommittee, also spoke of LeMay's concern but said the general did not indicate "there had been any arm-twisting at all" by his civilian superiors.

Stennis said LeMay placed the greatest emphasis on carrying out in full the safeguards listed by the joint chiefs.

Goldwater: Treaty Gives Soviet Grip

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., characterized the limited nuclear test-ban treaty Friday night as a first step toward a nonaggression pact sealing Soviet domination of European satellites.

Goldwater, regarded as a leading candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, called for a delay in action on the treaty until the Senate Preparedness subcommittee on which he serves can report on nuclear test findings.

He told a University of Wisconsin audience that what he has heard in closed hearings about Russian nuclear advances, in tests after the Soviets broke the 1958-61 moratorium, "disturbed me deeply."

"The testimony has served to deepen my conviction that we have been treading a dangerous path in our attempts to bring a halt to nuclear testing," he said.

"To say that we cannot test without endangering our health is to replace rational discussion with ill-founded hysteria. Our fear should be of what may happen to our future health as a nation, should we ever fall behind in our defense."

Hot Line Expected

Yank Warheads Set For Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada and the United States agreed Friday to equip Canadian forces with American nuclear warheads.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told a news conference the need to stay in constant touch with President Kennedy over their use in time of emergency meant "I can't even go fishing without a walkie-talkie."

A hot line for almost instantaneous communication is expected to be set up between Washington and Ottawa.

Pearson said the United States would retain control over the warheads, which will be delivered to Canadian units here and in Europe within weeks. A joint decision will be required to fire them, he added.

U.S. custodial units would be stationed at the Canadian posts.

The agreement, long a subject of dispute in Canadian politics, took effect with an exchange of letters between Foreign Minister Paul Martin and U.S. Ambassador Walton Butterworth.

It was approved formally by Pearson's Liberal party Cabinet after a week-long series of meetings.

Touched Off Row

The U.S. State Department touched off a parliamentary row earlier this year with a statement that Canada was hindering allied defense by delay in accepting the nuclear weapons. Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker's Conservative government fell, largely on this issue, and the Liberals were elected.

Pearson emphasized to newsmen that the negotiations for the agreement were initiated by the Conservative government.

Asked why he had changed his former position against obtaining warheads, Pearson said the Cuban crisis of last October had a great deal to do with it.

Also, he added, there was a feeling in the Atlantic alliance that Canada was not discharging its obligation, that "it was letting the alliance down."

Pearson said acceptable arrangements had been worked out governing use of nuclear weapons by Canadian planes based on French soil.

Cars Collide In Stroudsburg

STROUDSBURG — Two cars collided yesterday at 5:55 p.m. just west of the intersection of Bridge St., and Rt. 209. State Police reported no injuries and damage slight.

William Ralph Byrne, 24, of Hilliard, Ohio, and Rudolph Daniel, 55, of Allentown, RD 3, were identified as the drivers. Both were traveling east at the time.

Police said Byrne was stopped in a line of traffic and Daniel collided with the rear of the Byrne vehicle.

Greeted With 'Peace'

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—An American airman, parachuting from a shattered plane to the ocean 20,000 feet below, was rescued Friday by Russian fishermen greeting him with the word, "Peace."

Alerted by other U.S. fliers, the Soviet fishing vessel Johannes Warré sped a motor launch three-quarters of a mile to Capt. Hugh Lavallee's inflated rubber boat.

On shipboard, a Soviet doctor stitched Lavallee's cut chin and bathed bruises around the flier's eyes with antiseptic. And a sailor took off his own clothes to give the drenched 29-year-old American dry things.

Then, while two U.S. Coast Guard helicopters and a Coast Guard plane flew to take Lavallee back to Otis Air Force Base, the admiral commanding the Boston Coast Guard district radioed his thanks to the skipper of the Johannes Warré.

Robbery Leaders Sought

LONDON (AP)—Two married couples and a single man were formally charged Friday with small-fry roles in Britain's great train robbery and frightened confederates began panicking and dumping bits of the loot.

But the big shots in the daring robbery still were at large and Scotland Yard said no more arrests appeared in sight now.

Latest find was two suitcases stuffed with old notes, the main prize in the Aug. 8 holdup of the Glasgow-London mail train, which bagged $7,368,997 by latest police count.

A young man and his girl friend found the suitcases, with a locked briefcase nearby, dumped in a wood south of London. The area is an out-of-way spot popular with picknickers.

$700,000 Recovered

The suitcases, which bore no identification, were taken to a bank in nearby Dorking, where the money was counted at just above $280,000. This brings the amount of loot recovered to about $700,000, or less than 10 per cent of the total.

It began to appear that something between $140,000 and $280,000 might represent an individual share of the haul for rank-and-file members of the gang.

Three caches of about $140,000 each were found Thursday in Bournemouth when two men were arrested after a street fight with police.

The men, Roger John Cordrey and William Bood, appeared in court Friday and said nothing to charges of robbing the mail train.

Scotland Yard apparently was looking for gang leaders aboard a yacht. London papers reported helicopters had been shadowing a white yacht in the English Channel since Wednesday.

Jimenez Jailed In Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuelan police brought ex-dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez back from exile in the United States Friday night to face trial on charges that he embezzled at least $13 million during his regime.

The chartered plane that brought Jimenez from Miami, Fla., landed at an air force base 60 miles southwest of Caracas, a radio report from the base said.

An air-conditioned, isolated cell, complete with television, awaited Jimenez and maximum security precautions were in effect.

Women Aboard

He noticed many barrels of fish. He said the ship seemed well-equipped. He saw a number of women aboard of whom some were nurses and others, presumably, cooks.

Lavallee removed the sea coat, sandals and pair of pants which had been lent to him before he was hoisted aboard the helicopter for the trip back to Otis. He stepped from the aircraft here clad only in printed underwear shorts.

The Test of Faith

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Genesis 21—25.

As God had promised, Sarah, the wife of Abraham, conceived a son, although she was 90 and Abraham, 100. Through this son, Isaac, God promised, Abraham would become the father of nations.—Genesis 21.

To test Abraham's faith, he told him to take this beloved son, now grown, to a mountain and offer him as a burnt-offering. Abraham did not question the command, but set out with Isaac.—Genesis 22:1-8.

At the appointed place, Abraham built the altar, bound Isaac on wood on it, and took his knife to slay him. Just then the angel of the Lord intervened and stopped him, and a ram was offered instead.—Genesis 22:9-13.

When Isaac was about 40, his father sent his chief servant from Canaan back to Mesopotamia, to bring a bride for Isaac, Rebekah, from among his own people.—Genesis 24. GOLDEN TEXT: Hebrews 11:17.

Religion Today

Race Relationships

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The stock phrases and pat assumptions about race relationships in this country don't fit in some cases today, and Billy Graham is one of them.

The famed evangelist, who this week launched a return crusade in Los Angeles, has thrown some unusual, almost paradoxical side-lights on the issue now troubling the nation.

A Southerner, his meetings have set a pace in interracial harmony. Moreover, he sees more promise for racial peace in the South than in the North.

Yet, in contrast with Southern custom, his work has always been firmly non-segregated.

Also, he has managed to hold some of the South's biggest integrated church affairs, in tense situations.

"The South has a far better chance of solving the racial problem peacefully than the North," he said in a telephone interview.

"There are deeply rooted personal bonds and affections among Southern Negroes and whites that provide a basis for solution which does not exist in the North on the same scale."

It is in these vital, underlying ties of person-to-person attachments, aside from surface group conflicts, that Graham seeks the firmest roots for eventual interracial community and concord.

"The greatest need of the moment is for people of both races to act like Christians toward each other in personal contacts," he said. "We would go out of our way to be with other races, to show them that we are genuinely interested in them and love them."

Although Graham maintains that latent, positive qualities offer brighter hopes in the South than in the North, he has, on the other hand, set an advance pattern of racial integration in his work.

Segregation, he said, has "absolutely no place" in Christian worship.

"Every person of all races ought to be welcome in the church. This is one area where I cannot possibly understand segregation."

Early in his career, back in the beginning 1950s before the racial crisis arose in the country, Graham fixed a strict policy of not holding meetings unless all races were welcome. "We will not hold a segregated meeting anywhere in the world," he said.

Witnesses Announce Three-Day Assembly

Broughal High School in Bethlehem has been chosen by the Watchtower Society as the site for the three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses living in the Lehigh Valley on Sept. 3.

Stephen Bortlik, presiding minister of the East Stroudsburg congregation, announced that the principal speaker, David J. Thomas, special representative of the Watchtower Society, will deliver the featured talk, "The Bible Triumphs in a Scientific World."

Richard Palms, circuit supervisor of the congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in this area, and Paul Spatz of Pennsylvania are in charge of organizing the assembly.

"Although the assembly at Broughal High School will be small compared to some of the large assemblies held by the Witnesses, it will have, however," Palms said, "the same smooth-running organization as seen in the international assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses. One factor for the success of these gatherings is that work and time are given freely. This is a work of love."

"The reason for like conventions throughout the world," he said, "is to bring the name and purpose of Jehovah to the attention of the nations. This is especially true since 1931 when we adopted the name 'Jehovah's Witnesses' and have worked to expand the preaching of the good news of God's kingdom by Christ Jesus which is now being done in 132 lands with over 1,028,000 active ministers."

The assembly at the Broughal High School will be open to the public with no collections taken.

Movie Scheduled

STROUDSBURG — "Through Gates of Slender," a movie telling the story of five God-loving men who sacrificed their lives that the whole world might know of Jesus Christ, will be shown today at 8 p.m. in the Youth For Christ meeting in Wyckoff's Recreation Hall, N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg.

Today's Lesson:

The Test Of Faith

THIS WEEK'S lesson takes us from the birth of the only son of Abraham and Sarah to the birth of their grandsons by him, Esau and Jacob.

Twenty-five years after God's promise, Isaac was finally born when Abraham was 100 and Sarah, 90. The age of Isaac's parents reminds us of another pair of Biblical parents, Zacharias and Elizabeth, who gave birth of John the Baptist when they were beyond the normal child-bearing years.

The age of his parents may be reflected in Isaac's name, which means "he laughs" or "the laughing one." We recall that Sarah laughed when the angels announced that she would have a child when she was so aged (Genesis 18:12-13). Incidentally, only one other birth was more heralded than Isaac's—Christ's.

Sarah now returns Hagar's spite; after having no child, she now has the preferred child. In another reversal of roles, we find Abimelech, king of Gerar, visiting Abraham in Beersheba and seeking a treaty of protection from him, who is now obviously favored by God (Genesis 21:22-33). Previously, Abraham had restored to trickery to keep himself safe from Abimelech's power (Genesis 20).

The story of Abraham's sacrifice of Isaac is a familiar one; it represents the supreme test and supreme victory of Abraham's faith. We all meet tests of our own faith, lesser in degree than Abraham's, but the same in concept—in the apparent inconsistencies of God's actions. Isaac, so long waited, so long promised and for whom so much was promised, was apparently to be destroyed. Yet Abraham's faith is such that he is able to tell his servants that he and Isaac will return. He cannot comprehend what God plans, yet he believes.

Chapter 23 details the death and burial of Sarah at the age of 127. Abraham was away from home at the time. His negotiations for a burial place for his wife typify Oriental dealings.

After Sarah's death, Abraham becomes concerned about the marriage of Isaac, who is now about 40. The chief reason that he determines to find a wife for his son from among his own people rather than from among the Canaanites among whom he lived was apparently the gross immorality, wickedness and idolatry of the latter; his own people were worshippers of the One God.

THE GLORY ROAD

Ministers are all to prone to "sell" their flock on the idea that Heaven is a place of rich rewards when one gets there. Streets of gold, pearly gates, crowns to wear and your most treasured wish come true as promised in the sweet bye and bye.

This may have been a good enough approach in years gone by when the average church member never had the opportunity to increase his education much beyond the sixth or seventh grade. The preacher, often at a loss as to how to impress the flock with a desire for spiritual things, conjured up a mental picture of the hereafter, as one would describe the celebration of Christmas to children.

Today's modern church member is far better educated and is more often than not a college graduate. Still the old approach is used—"Pie in the sky in the sweet bye and bye." Is it so strange then that there are so many empty pews in our churches?

In some peculiar way, ministers have made the worship of God a self-centered, profit and loss situation. One gives in order to gain the more in return!

Church members who hold to this kind of self worship are no better than the merchants and money changers that Christ drove out of the temple!

True worship of God is an act of love. This love should be reflected also in our dealings with our fellow man, not in hope of rewards but simply, being loved, we have to love. Is it not enough to know that God is in Heaven, and that soon we will be in His presence? Can there be anything more wonderful than just being where He is?

"In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you." John 14:2.

Let us not dwell on what we shall or shall not have in the Heavenly abode. Rather let us serve in love to further the work of the kingdom while yet we are on earth. Let us obey the laws out of love, not seeking rewards either here or in Heaven. Christianity is the thinking man's religion. Let us think and act like adults rather than little children who have to be bribed.

What is so great about streets of gold? I should think that they could be most annoying when the sun shone on them. Gold does not wear well, so there would have to be constant polishing.

Come, put away childish things. Let us work with a will in a common labor of love.

Colorful Festival Closes LWF's Fourth Assembly

HELSINKI — The Lutheran World Federation brought its Fourth Assembly to a close here with a colorful outdoor festival in Helsinki's Olympic Stadium.

The climatic event, which drew a turnout of more than 20,000 persons, featured music and drama and an inspirational address by the LWF's new president, Dr. Fredrik A. Schiotz of Minneapolis, Minn., who earlier had characterized the 12-day meeting as "the Worshipping Assembly."

During the next six years, Dr. Schiotz, who is president of The American Lutheran Church, will lead an international church organization comprised of 73 member churches in 28 countries with a combined constituency of nearly 53,000,000.

The Federation represents almost three-fourths of the estimated 73,000,000 Lutherans in the world—the third largest confessional body after the Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox.

By proclamation of Finnish Archbishop Ilmarinen Salminen, church bells of local parishes throughout Finland rang out promptly at 3 p.m. as the largest religious gathering ever held in Helsinki got underway with the singing of a hymn which included the verse: "Glory to God, the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, Three in One! To Thee, O Holy Trinity, Be praise throughout eternity!"

In an address of welcome on the text "I was dead but behold I am alive," Bishop Ellis G. Gulik of the Diocese of Tampere, the largest in the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church, extended greetings to the representatives of world Lutheranism.

Other Activities: Friday, 7:30 p.m., Mid-week worship.

LWF Head Calls Meeting A 'Worshipping Assembly'

HELSINKI — The Lutheran World Federation's Fourth Assembly "will go down in history as the Worshipping Assembly," it was said here by the newly-elected president of the international church organization.

The judgment was expressed by Dr. Fredrik A. Schiotz of Minneapolis, Minn., president of The American Lutheran Church, at a press conference shortly after he was named to head the LWF.

Dr. Schiotz observed that the attendance at Bible study sessions and the daily Communion services during the 12-day meeting "has been phenomenal."

"This coming together to worship and adore God, the Creator of the Universe and Lord of the Church, has been a moving witness to the reality we have sought to express in the assembly theme, 'Christ Today,'" he said.

He also noted that the assembly's document on Prayer in the Life of the Congregation, which he described as "an excellent piece of work," will help delegates and visitors "to transmit to their congregations that which we have here experienced in this worshipping assembly."

"Here in Helsinki we have been renewed in the truth which we confess as primary in the Christian faith," Dr. Schiotz declared, "namely, that in his relationship to God man is justified by faith alone; but in the relationship to his neighbor good works are of primary importance."

The new LWF president pointed out that the assembly had made some changes in the structure of the federation, which was particularly evident in the creation of a

Bishop Gulik addressed the delegates and visitors in the four official languages of the Assembly—Finnish, Swedish, German and English—and stressed the Assembly theme, "Christ Today."

The closing festival in the stadium where the Olympic Games were held eleven years ago took place in balmy weather under sunny skies, with a slight breeze rippling the flags and banners of the countries represented at the Assembly.

More than 25,000 tickets for the event had been distributed throughout Finland and many among the thousands in attendance came from the far corners of the small country to participate in the two-hour service.

A massed choir of 600 voices from parishes in the Diocese of Helsinki sang selections by Jean Sibelius, Finland's most famous composer, and by Ossé Eloks, promising young Finnish musician, who also conducted the chorus.

In his sermon, which was given in English and translated into Finnish, Dr. Schiotz used the same text as Bishop Gulik also dwelt on the theme of the Assembly, "Christ Today."

A dramatic presentation, "Christ Gathers His People and Sends Them Out," was performed on the grass field of the stadium by parish youth of Helsinki, under the direction of Elsa Raunio.

Spectators participated by singing four traditional Lutheran hymns as the drama unfolded in three scenes, in the first of which "Christ gives light to awaken the Church," in the second "The Church comes together at His Cross," and in the third "The Church united in faith and love is sent out into the world."

Coordinating Committee for Budget and Program.

He said he anticipated that these changes will help the federation "to do its work more effectively," and added that its departments "will now be less a group of separate kingdoms" and "more like one united effort."

Dr. Schiotz hailed as "a decision of paramount importance" the action of the assembly to establish a Lutheran Foundation for Inter-Confessional Research.

He said that Bishop Hermann Dietzelbinger of Bavaria characterized this decision well when he said, "In this action we have an opportunity for assuming the full responsibility entrusted to us by Reformation."

Festival music will be by the Mountnhome Choir and Women's Trio under the direction of Mrs. John Nauman. Mrs. Warren Miller, organist of the church, has prepared special music for this historic occasion.

The Rev. John Nelson Roberts, Pastor of the Church, will conduct the services and will speak on the theme, "Re-discovering the Church."

Art Show Draws Raves Of Visitors

STROUDSBURG — "This show is just too much. When I see these paintings, I think of the rooms I could put them in," said Miss Rae Longo of Stroudsburg, in reference to the two-day court-house square art show.

Miss Longo was one of hundreds of people who took in the opening day of the show.

Sponsored by the Pocono Mts. Art Group, the two-day show includes paintings in all media, and handicrafts. Approximately 350 paintings are on display, and a few artists can be seen at work at their exhibits.

Mrs. Ethel Farleigh, a teacher from Mt. Bethel, thought the show was "just marvelous," she said she prefers outdoor art shows.

Vacationers found the show a spot to visit in the area. Mr. and Mrs. Dwan Temple of Hinsdale, Ill., thought it "looked very good."

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Silas of Tamaqua offered their like both indoor and outdoor shows, and pointed out "you can see flaws much easier in the sunlight." Both said they "liked the show very much. We try to come every year. There's more to see."

J. Leo Schaud, an artist from Tamaqua, said "I like outdoor shows if the weather is good," and added that he has seen the last five shows in the square.

J. Carroll Tobias, Peter Heiden, and Clarence Dreisbach are just three area artists who are participating in the show which ends at dusk today.

Hundreds of people walked through the exhibits yesterday, and many found it "just too much."

Concert Site Committee Appointed

STROUDSBURG — A committee to prepare specific proposals for location and construction of a site for permanent Philadelphia Orchestra summer concert series was formed yesterday.

Robert F. Davenport, vice president of the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., is chairman of the six-member planning committee.

It was appointed at a Penn-Stroud Hotel luncheon meeting of business, resort and cultural leaders. The meeting followed a meeting Aug. 5 at which top officials of the Philadelphia Orchestra Assn. said they were very anxious to establish a permanent summer home in the Pocono Mountains.

Other members of the planning committee are Dr. Charlotte Jordan, Marcia Clapp DeLoe, co-chairman of the Pocono Art Center; Alex L. Bensinger, president of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce; Paul Grant, innkeeper at Shawnee Inn; and Leon Zacher of the East Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn.

The possibility of building a community hall for convention and other uses as well as for artistic activities of the Pocono Art Center was discussed.

The Philadelphia Orchestra's Sept. 13 concert at the East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School auditorium was cited as an opportunity for the community to show its interest in bringing the orchestra to the Poconos permanently.

Bangor Corps At Eastburg Show Tonight

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Bangor Yellow Jackets, well-known throughout this area for their numerous appearances in parades and at ceremonies, will be one of four corps competing for $1,600 in prize money tonight in the third annual Music in Motion.

The competition is scheduled for 8 p.m. in East Stroudsburg Memorial Stadium. The rain date is 2 p.m. Sunday.

The Yellow Jackets were organized in 1926 by members of E. H. Evans Post 378, American Legion, and now represent not only the Legion but Dyle E. Bray Post 739, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The corps uses at its theme "Show Business" and will continue to use as its opening number. "Another Opening, Another Show." This is the 11th consecutive year of field competition for the corps.

Also scheduled to appear at tonight's competition are the Greater Reading Buccaneers, four times national VFW champions, including this year; the Westshoremen-Bonnie Scotts, who won the competition here last year; and the Amboy Dukes from Perth Amboy, N. J.

The exhibition corps will be the Emmaus Sentinels, the newest marching and maneuvering corps in eastern Pennsylvania.

Judges will be from the Middle Atlantic Assn. of Judges.

Monday Diane's 8th Anniversary; Death, Destruction Recalled

By DON ALLEN
Daily Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — The headline on the Aug. 20, 1955, edition of The Daily Record told the story, but only part of it:

"22 Known Dead; Scores Missing in Flood; Heaviest Toll Taken in East Stroudsburg."

Two days earlier, there had been a less prominent and — considering what happened, more ironic — headline on Page One. It read: "Diane Wearing Herself Out As She Blows Northwest; Only Minor Damage Caused."

Between the two headlines was a story of grim destruction and death for residents of Monroe County, the greatest disaster ever to strike the area.

79 Known Dead

Before they finished counting, there were 79 persons dead and millions of dollars worth of damage to homes, businesses, industry and public utilities.

The eighth anniversary of the devastating floods which accompanied Hurricane Diane will be Monday of next week. No formal observance is planned and none is really needed.

The scars of the flood have disappeared. In their place, flood control dikes line the banks of the Brodheads and Michaels Creeks. Had they been there eight years ago, much of the damage and loss of life might have been avoided.

The 22 "known" dead listed in this paper's first edition after the flood grew at an alarming rate. By Monday, Aug. 22, it had grown to 55, of which 24 were from Camp Davis, near Anasomink, literally wiped off the map by a wall of water from Brodheads Creek.

From 7 a.m., Thursday, Aug. 18, to 7 a.m. Friday, the 19th, a total of 13.24 inches of rain fell on the area. The creeks just couldn't handle it.

Estimates of damage climbed daily — and sometimes hourly — as stunned householders and employees returned to their homes or places of businesses.

$7,000,000 In Damages

The estimate of damages to roads and bridges in the county alone was $7,000,000. Industry listed its loss at $3,000,000, not counting payrolls and sales. It was estimated at first that damages to homes alone in the Stroudsburg area were $1,000,000 and that, including contents, the loss was over $3,000,000.

Later the figure was revised to $5,000,000 damages to homes and stores in Stroudsburg and $826,338 to streets and other public property throughout the area. An estimated 8,500 workers were idled for varying periods until recovery began.

Help came from everywhere. But mostly it was the courage of the residents of the area which made the gigantic task of starting over possible.

The Red Cross, Salvation Army, Civil Defense and National Guard all helped. So did civic organizations and local governments in communities miles away from the stricken area.

Some sent food and clothing. Others sent equipment. Still others provided transportation. Others sent their men and women to help.

Among the latter were Monmouths from Bucks and Montgomery Counties and residents of the New Jersey shore communities who years later, were to receive similar assistance when storms devastated their homes and businesses.

The State Legislature quickly enacted a one-cent increase in both gasoline and cigarette taxes to help speed relief to the stricken areas of the state.

By the time The Record published its flood control edition on Sept. 24, a total of 67 bodies had been found. They were still turning up, usually one at a time, as much as two years later.

In his book, "Flood" published by Ballantine Books in 1956, David Dempsey quotes an unidentified Stroudsburg taxi driver as saying:

Speaking Now

"People on the hill who never spoke to the common folks are speaking to them now. What's more they have them living in their homes. They sure do. They invited them to move right in, folks who had lost their homes — gave them a room or two. In a way, the flood was a good thing for this town."

He may have been right. But those who lived through it; those who lost relatives or friends, or a business, or their lifetime investment would be inclined to doubt it.

There are so many simpler ways to improve a town.

PEACEFUL NOW—This peaceful scene is in sharp contrast to August 19, 1955, when flood waters swirled through Camp Davis in background of this photo killing 35 persons. The camp was never rebuilt.

Willard Wolff, Panther Native

MORRISTOWN, N.J. — Willard Wolff, 70, of 111 Franklin St., Morristown, N.J., died Thursday in his home. He had been in failing health the past six months.

Born in Panther, P'te Co., Pa., he was a son of the late Samuel and Frances Wolff.

Mr. Wolff taught music in the Stroudsburg schools for many years. He was a graduate of Ithaca Conservatory of Music, and while in Stroudsburg he was very active in the music field.

He was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Morris Plains, N.J.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Beulah Wolff, at home; a son, Bruce of Santa Clara, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Victor Adams of Parsippany, N.J.; eight grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Bert Taffinger and Miss Freda Wolff, both of Stroudsburg.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. in the Dunkelberger and Westbrook Funeral Home with the Rev. Thomas Shoemith officiating. Burial will be in the Greentown Cemetery, Greentown, Pa.

Friends and relatives may call at the funeral home Sunday after 7 p.m.

Mrs. Griffiths Of Panther

PANTHER — Mrs. William T. Griffiths, 62, died at her home in Panther yesterday afternoon.

Born in West Chester, she was the daughter of the late William and Olive Becker Trimble.

She was a resident of Panther most of her life, and a former school teacher.

She was a member of the South Sterling Methodist Church.

She is survived by her husband, D. W. Clinton Griffiths, and one sister, Mrs. Anna Woodlick of West Chester.

Funeral services will be held in the West Laurel Hill chapel in Philadelphia Tuesday afternoon.

Friends may call at the Frey Funeral Home in South Sterling Monday after 7 p.m.

200 To Pay Tribute To Bangor Priest

BANGOR — Two hundred Bangor State Belt people are expected to attend the testimonial dinner for the Rev. James W. Fitzgerald, pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Bangor.

The dinner will be held in the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Stroudsburg, tonight.

Father Fitzgerald, who has been pastor of the Bangor church for the past six years, will leave Aug. 29 to become the assistant pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, Baltimore, Md.

The Rev. Robert Grogan, 67, of Spring Lakes, Mich., will replace Father Fitzgerald.

Father Fitzgerald, a native of Philadelphia, entered the priesthood 36 years ago. After attending St. Bridget's Parochial School in Philadelphia, he attended St. Joseph's College, Princeton, N. J., and St. Vincent's Seminary in Germantown.

He completed post-graduate work at St. John's University, Brooklyn, N. Y., and later served with the Mission Band at St. Vincent's and in Germantown.

Father Fitzgerald has two sisters and two brothers living in Philadelphia.

Ex-Resident Of Tobyhanna

BRIDGEPORT, CONN. — William A. Van Horn, 71, of Bridgeport, Conn., died at the Veterans' Hospital in Wilkes-Barre Thursday.

Born in Tobyhanna, he was the son of the late George and Lidia Castlerline Van Horn, and lived in Bridgeport 20 years.

A veteran of World War I, he was a member of the Sumnerfield Methodist Church in Bridgeport.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Panna, Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Helen Keiper, Tobyhanna; two brothers, Mahlon, Tobyhanna, and Walter, Stroudsburg; two step sons, Robert Browning, of Stratford, Conn., and George Browning, of Bridgeport, Conn.; and one sister, Mrs. Jeanne Norkus, Trumbull, Conn.

Funeral services will be Monday at 1 p.m. in the Frey funeral home in South Sterling with the Rev. Denton Covert officiating.

Burial will be in the Dunmore cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday and Sunday after 7 p.m.

Horn Aids Seriously Burned Boy

AVOCO — A Stroudsburg non-commissioned officer, on duty with his Air Force Reserve unit here, was instrumental yesterday in the rapid chain of events which moved a seriously burned boy from Scranton to University of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

Sgt. Lawrence Horn of 1719 Wallace St., a member of the 9201st Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron, based at Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport here, handled the radio messages which resulted in the 8372nd Reserve Recovery Group in Philadelphia having an ambulance at the airport to receive the boy and rush him to the hospital.

Francis McClain, 13-year-old son of Major and Mrs. Robert McClain, Minooka, was critically burned while cleaning a grease pit in a service station owned by his father, who is also supply officer of the 9201st.

He was flown to Philadelphia in a plane owned by Medico Industries, Pittston, and piloted by Ralph Maylor, an employee of the firm.

Paroled Students Ordered To Renew College Studies

STROUDSBURG — Three former East Stroudsburg State College students who pleaded guilty to burglary of the Wiggins Grocery Store, 207 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg, were paroled yesterday after serving almost three months of an 11 to 23 month sentence in Monroe County Jail.

They were paroled by Judge Fred W. Davis, who sentenced them on May 21. They are Garland M. Fisher, 24, of Bethlehem; Sterling Banta, 20, of Hershey, and Alan C. Howie, 18, of Villanova.

They admitted taking $314.40 in merchandise and $250 in cash from the store after their arrest by East Stroudsburg Police on May 18.

All have been admitted to other colleges, the court was told. They were expelled from ESSC after they were arrested.

Judge Davis made a condition to parole for each that he "attend college, apply himself and do satisfactory work, keep the court, through its parole department, informed of his grades and whereabouts."

The three were represented by Arlington W. Williams, Stroudsburg attorney.

James Hall, 17, of 307 Chestnut St., Kearney, N. J., serving a three to 23 months term for burglary, was also paroled by Judge Davis.

Hall was arrested by State Police of the Stroudsburg barracks and charged with stealing antiques from the home of Harold Crossdale in Smithfield Township.

Henry Mader Ludwig, Phillipsburg, N. J., was remanded to jail for failure to pay fine and costs on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

"We thought these features were only in the most expensive homes."

A Citizen's Duty

It is every Pennsylvania citizen's duty to read and understand as much as he can about the Nov. 5 referendum on a state constitutional convention.

At the same time, it is a public duty of every newspaper, political leader, informed public servant and informed private citizen to explain, discuss and criticize the proposal for convention to revise the present state constitution.

As a newspaper, The Daily Record will print as much informative material as it can in an effort to fairly and fully inform its readers on this most important subject.

We will also invite and will print our readers' opinions on the constitutional convention. Every letter to the editor on this subject, as on all subjects, will be printed, if it is within the bounds of law and good taste, and as long as we have space.

Public debate, as in the letters to the editor column today on this page, is a healthy and necessary preparation for the Nov. 5 vote.

As a special service to our readers, we are printing below the full text of the law signed by the governor which sets up referendum and convention machinery. We suggest that you read, clip and save it for reference as the debate grows.

An informed citizen is a necessity in a free democratic society. We will do our best to inform you. But you must take a citizen's interest and exercise your duty as a citizen to learn as much as you can of the vital issues at stake.

The Full Text

Constitutional Convention

(This is the full text of Senate Bill 692 passed by the Pennsylvania legislature and signed into law by Gov. William Scranton. It provides for a referendum on the Nov. 5 ballot in which voters will decide whether they want a constitutional convention. It also sets up machinery for running that convention.)

As amended on second reading, in House of Representatives, July 31, 1963.

An act, providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate with respect to calling a constitutional convention providing for such convention in the event of approval and providing for submission of a new Constitution to the electors.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section One
At the municipal election in the year 1963 there shall be submitted in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth a question to determine the will of the electorate of the Commonwealth in regard to a constitutional convention. Such question shall be in the following form:

Do you favor a constitutional convention to prepare a new constitution subject to ratification by a vote of the people? Yes — No —

The question shall be printed on the official and specimen ballots or on separate official ballots in bound form by the county board of elections in each county and a sufficient number of ballots shall be furnished to the election officers in each election district of every county so that one ballot may be supplied to each voter at such election. In districts where voting machines are used such question shall appear on the face of the machine where the machine is properly equipped for such purpose.

The results of such election shall be tabulated by the proper election officers of each county and the results thereof certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Section Two
If a majority of those voting on the question vote in favor of the preparation of a new constitution then a constitutional convention shall be called by the governor to convene in the hall of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, on July 1, 1964, at eleven o'clock a.m. The convention shall conclude its sessions not later than May 15, 1965.

Section Three
The convention shall be composed of one hundred fifty delegates. Three delegates shall be elected from each senatorial district as provided for by the reapportionment act most recently adopted prior to February 1, 1964. Each elector in each such district may vote for not more than two candidates for the office of delegate. The three candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected to the office of delegate.

The county committee or committees of each political party in each district shall collectively nominate two candidates for the office of delegates.

Subject to the limitations upon the number of candidates provided in this act applicable to political parties candidates may also be nominated by political bodies as provided in the Pennsylvania election code. Each delegate shall be at least twenty-one years of age, shall have been a citizen and resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for four years, and a resident of his district one year immediately prior to July 1, 1964.

Section Four
Delegates shall be elected at the primary to be held in 1964. Nominations for the office of delegate shall be made by the county committee or committees of each political party in each district in accordance with party rules and the names of the nominees submitted to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall certify the names of nominees to the county board of elections as provided by law not later than sixty days preceding such primary.

Nominees may withdraw their names from nomination, substitutions for such vacancies shall be made, the election shall be held, and the canvass and return thereof shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Pennsylvania election code and shall be certified to the Governor by the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than June 15, 1964.

Certificates of election shall immediately be issued under the seal of the Commonwealth signed by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Vacancies occurring in the office of delegate shall be filled by a vote of the delegates of the party of which the delegate whose place is to be filled was a representative.

Section Five
The members of the constitutional convention shall receive the total sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) for expenses payable in five equal installments on August 1, September 1, October 1, November 1, 1964, and January 1, 1965. In addition they shall receive an allowance for traveling expenses of ten cents (10¢) per mile circular per week payable monthly.

Section Six
The constitutional convention shall be called to order by the Governor and shall immediately organize by electing a president, secretary and such other officers as shall be necessary for the transaction of its business. It shall have the power to adopt rules of procedure to determine the election and qualification of delegates and generally to adjourn to such time or times and such place or places in the City of Harrisburg as it shall determine.

The convention shall employ and fix salaries of such secretaries, officers, attorneys, legal and technical assistants, and other employees as are deemed necessary to carry out the provision of this act and may request the Legislative Reference Bureau for aid and assistance. It shall have the authority to purchase, rent, or lease office supplies, equipment, telephones, telegraphs and other material deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section Seven
The convention is authorized and empowered to make an intensive study of our present constitution and to draft a new constitution for submission to the qualified electors of this Commonwealth.

Section Eight
The new constitution as proposed shall be certified by the president and secretary of the convention to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than June 1, 1965.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed constitution upon the records of his office and shall publish the same in at least two newspapers of general circulation if there are such in every county of this Commonwealth, once during the second week of July, 1965.

He shall also publish the proposed constitution in convenient form and send a copy thereof to each elector requesting it, and ten copies thereof through the county board of elections to each polling place for the use of voters during the election.

Section Nine
The constitution proposed by the convention shall be submitted at the general election held in 1965 to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection.

The majority vote of the electors voting thereon shall determine whether the new constitution shall be adopted. If adopted the new Constitution shall become effective as provided therein or by the schedule attached thereto.

The Governor upon receipt of a certificate of the results of the election from the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall if the new constitution has been adopted immediately make proclamation thereof.

Section Ten
This act shall take effect immediately.

'It's Peace... Or All In Pieces!'

Dear Abby

Wrong Friend-- Wrong Lover!

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 22 years, but my husband and I are only good friends. Ten years ago I met a married man. He and his wife had nothing in common, so he courted me and we became sweethearts. He joined my husband and son and me for week-end trips and we were like one big happy family. All my friends knew he was crazy about me but, out of charity, we were careful not to let his wife find out. Well, last week his wife called and told me her husband admitted everything, and if I didn't get out of their lives she would tell my husband and son. If she breaks up my marriage, I'll have nothing left. I never wanted to hurt her Abby. She wasn't a good wife. I gave up years of my life making her husband happy. I never ran after him. He ran after me. Now when I call him he refuses to talk to me. How can I get him back?

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: How many "husbands" do you think a woman is entitled to make happy — at one time, that is? Your "sweetheart" turned sour, and your little game is over. Leave him alone, and be grateful that your unknowing but betrayed husband is still a "good friend".

DEAR ABBY: I don't know if you will understand this or not because I can hardly understand it myself. The man I am marrying insists that I write to you and tell you that we are getting married and we would like to have a book on married life. I would not do this under any other circumstances, but I love this man and if it will make him happy it is not too big a favor to grant him. He is Hungarian. Maybe that will explain it. They aren't satisfied unless they know everything.

NEW CITIZEN

DEAR NEW CITIZEN: Send me your name and address and I'll do your Hungarian husband-to-be a favor.

DEAR ABBY: I was taught to tell the truth, but I am tempted to start lying. A girl in our office can't compliment anyone on her shoes, blouse, purse, or anything she wears without asking, "Where did you get it and how much was it?"

She's asked me about several new things I've worn, and not knowing how to get out of it, I've told her. Then she shows up at work all smiles in the identical thing. How do I put a stop to this?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Why lie? Tell her pointedly that you think her question is personal and out of order.

Speaking Of Your Health:

Why Injections?

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

You may have wondered why some drugs are given to you by mouth and others by injection. Most drugs, especially the newer antibiotics, depend for their curative action on the amount that circulates in the blood. The blood brings the drug to the diseased part of the body. It is the amount and the concentration of the drug in the blood stream that often determines how efficient it is.

Drugs taken by mouth take a longer time to be absorbed. That is why drugs are so often given directly into the muscle or in the vein by injection.

For Quicker Results
Sometimes your doctor will give you a first dose by injection in order to speed up the curing action, then will follow up and supplement this by regular doses of pills.

Experience and scientific knowledge govern your doctor's choice of a drug and how it should be administered.

INFANT IDENTIFICATION
The positive identification of newborn babies has engaged the attention of doctors and scientists for years. Fingerprints and fingerprints have been taken routinely in hospitals in order to avoid any possibility of confusion.

A newer procedure for identifying infants has been used in Chicago. Doctors there have noted that the special characteristics of the ears never change. Facial features may change, but ears do not!

A special photographic technique records the ears of the infants. It is said that this is virtually foolproof against any mix-up in identification.

STREP THROAT

Before the advent of the "wonder drugs", families were thrown into a panic at the doctor's statement, "Your child has a strep throat."

Strep is short for streptococcus, which is one of many disease-producing bacteria in our bodies.

Strep throat need no longer hold any terror, although it must never be neglected. Penicillin and other antibiotics have been remarkable agents in controlling the severity of diseases, produced by the streptococcus.

One of the great achievements of this scientific age is the effectiveness with which other strep diseases, too, such as rheumatic fever and kidney disease, have been controlled by the antibiotic wonder drugs.

TICS
Everyone knows a child, an adolescent or an adult who has some kind of muscular tic. Tics may vary from a twitching of the eye, to a spasm of the muscle, to an involuntary movement of the nose. Certain coughs and throat noises are considered to be tics, too.

Although some tics are based on physical causes, more often the origin is in disturbed emotions. Too much parental pressure or excessive demands on children often are factors.

Two Rules
There are two important rules about tics to be followed:

First, don't shame or embarrass the child.

Second, seek the underlying cause.

Tocks Island Criticism Called 'Political'

Editor, The Daily Record:

A letter from a Blairstown resident condemning the Tocks Island project, the buses carrying the people, and the people using both, is unfair.

First of all, recreational areas are not a novelty in this country. There are many places in this country, of all types. Why doesn't that writer complain about them?

Does that writer know of the value of "one life" that could have been saved, if the dangers of flood were prevented or reduced, this alone would be worth every dollar spent.

Shortages of water in the Trenton, Philadelphia area would be prevented, even as far away as Delaware, will benefit by this project.

More than anything else, think of all the people who don't get any breaks in life, too poor to own a place in the country, who can enjoy fresh air, clean water for swimming and fishing, their children probably have never been to the country.

This writer didn't go to the country till he was about 20 years of age. I surely would not think of depriving any children of a chance to fill their lungs with fresh air.

Why attack poor people because they are forced to use busses as a means of transportation? There are many people in private cars who abuse their privileges, speeding, drunken driving, littering, and endangering the lives of others, any one near them. They are more of a menace to the public.

The Blairstown area will probably get less of the traffic to "Tocks Island Area" than the Stroudsburgs, so why worry or complain?

It seems to me that the real reason for many of the complaints of the above mentioned project is more political than anything else, so many reasons have been given.

Some are so nonsensical as to sound only "hair splitting", and no real reason for any objection has been given by any one not directly affected by this project.

As for ruining beauty spots in the Poconos, we have so many of them, why pick on the people who are going to create employment, develop recreational areas? All these projects are for the benefit of us all.

Don't condemn people because they will visit this area, and spend their money. Don't condemn "outsiders". Most of us were not born in Monroe County. Where is your brotherly love?

In closing, please accept my thanks for the use of your column, with a request for a reply to my problem. "How can we expect people of other nations to love us, when there is so much hate among ourselves?"

Try and Stop Me

A beautiful young lady in the Park Avenue sector has been squired this season by a variety of eligible men-about-town. They bring her home to an exclusive apartment house, where she bids her dates farewell, and is then ushered inside by an obsequious doorman. Her date is no sooner out of sight, however, than the obsequious doorman kisses the young lady warmly and sends her off via the subway to her real home. He is her father.

The state constitution should and must be revised in order to keep pace with our state's growth. The present constitution is costing us millions of added tax dollars per year—to pay for exorbitant interest fees on monies borrowed under the "authority" system—to pay for outmoded court procedures and tax collections, among other things.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Convention Cost Criticized; Drummers, Buglers Needed

'Half Million Dollar Convention' Cost Deplored

Editor, The Daily Record:
Little boys play with matches; big boys play with money. Age does not eliminate hazards.

Your editorial of Wednesday, August 11, "Bipartisan Revision": the important words are not "subject to ratification," the important words are revision or convention.

A constitutional convention is a completely new writing of a present constitution.

A constitutional convention includes the appointing of three delegates from every state senatorial district, each of whom receive $3,000 plus traveling expenses at 7 cents per mile—totaling a minimum of half million dollars.

A constitutional revision (by amendments) is accomplished through the regular workings of our general assembly, 360 legislators, of whom 65 are lawyers.

A constitutional convention (whatever number of articles and sections) is voted on carte blanche by the people; constitutional revision is voted on one article at a time (unless two or more have been grouped together).

In 1959 the Woodside Commission presented to Gov. Lawrence a 226 page bound and printed report on constitutional revision. They were paid $50,000 by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And, it is reported that 15 of its members worked without pay (receiving only traveling expenses).

Included on the Woodside Commission were: Chairman Robert E. Woodside (Superior Court Judge); the Hon. Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs; Hon. Richardson Dilworth, mayor of Philadelphia; and Hon. Edwin W. Tompkins, Republican minority whip in the house of Representatives. (I have a copy of this report with the picture of all the distinguished members who worked on the revision).

Since that time, the PBA (Pennsylvania Bar Association) has worked (without pay) to submit a 67 page bound and printed booklet "A Revised Constitution for Pennsylvania" (namely — "Project Constitution") which includes 12 resolutions and an act and presented it to the 1963 Session of the legislature.

This work was started in the fall of 1961 by more than 300 judges and lawyers; its chairman, the Hon. William A. Schnader, former attorney general of Pennsylvania.

Our present state constitution contains 18 articles and 222 sections; if revised, according to the work of the PBA, would be reduced to 11 articles and 152 sections. (I have three copies of this booklet).

On June 5, the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women sponsored "Crusade Constitution" at the Penn Harris Hotel in Harrisburg. Four of us from Monroe County attended, representing two of our local councils; the meeting was open to men and women, Republican, Democratic and independent. (The Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women is the largest political women's organization in the United States of America 50,000 strong.)

The principle speaker was the Hon. William A. Schnader, introduced by the present Attorney General Walter E. Alesandroni. (We were also privileged to hear from the Hon. Edwin W. Tompkins and Mrs. Audrey Kelley.)

One of Mr. Schnader's opening remarks matched Mr. Tompkins' and coincided with Mrs. Kelley's introductory sentiments, "Let us not be too quick to ridicule as 'old hat' and 'horse-and-buggy' the constitution of our commonwealth."

"The fact that changes are needed; that progress has outmoded and outdated a few of the sections, does not alter the fact that our constitution was set up in line with the constitution of our United States; and our state constitution has served us for only 90 years, whereas our national constitution has served us for 178 years."

The Hon. Schnader cautioned, "Constitutional conventions have been held in other states. The results should be strongly considered. In New Jersey they have ended up with only one elective office in state government—that of the Governor! All other offices are appointive!"

In Connecticut, they have eliminated county government. All government is under state!"

My Dear Editor! . . . I have read your criticism of the cost of our special election; I have read your critique of the work of our legislators; I have read your remarks about our governor . . . and you approve a constitutional convention??

You disapprove of a $50,000 expenditure and promote a half million dollar item? You think our legislators haven't worked hard enough; but give real work to a whole, new group of "officers?"

And, your eighth paragraph: "If the public does not like the re-written constitution, it can vote it down and continue to live with the present constitution."

Little boys play with matches; big boys play with money. One half million dollars for a constitutional convention . . . If we don't like it, vote it down! So, . . . are you saying: "Let's have a real bonfire!""?? Careful boys!

Keystone Grenadiers Sound Call For Musicians

Editor, The Daily Record:

Since the third annual "music in motion" Senior Drum and Bugle Corps competition is being presented tonight, I feel this would be the most opportune time to make a plea to all men of the Pocono Mountain area to consider becoming a member of our local Keystone Grenadiers Senior Drum & Bugle Corps.

For a reason unknown to me, we have been unable to attract many men with any degree of musical background. This is not to say there is any criticism of our local unit.

On the contrary, I have a high regard and a great deal of respect for their efforts and desire to learn and likewise for the fruits of their efforts and desires as we have finally come to the point of commanding respect throughout the state circuit as a Class C parade competition corps.

For two years in a row we have won the V.F.W. state championship parade class and lost the American Legion State Class C competition by only three tenths of one point in 1962.

Therefore, we have come a long way since the 1940's and 1950's when trophies and prizes were few and far between. Today we very seldom place "out of the money" in parade competition.

The fact that we are enjoying a great deal of success and without any degree of true musicianship brings further pride to our organization.

It also puzzles me, and it is for this reason that we would like to register a plea to young men in high school and any adult who might possess the spirit and desire for competition, which as any member of the unit can verify, will result in a great deal of personal satisfaction.

The corps also provides an opportunity to travel far and wide as you may see by requesting a copy of our parade schedule. It is not mandatory to make all parades and practices as this is not possible in a volunteer organization.

Several years back when we were playing the simple post World War II music and with very little potential, we were able to attract men including many high school musicians who had a great deal of musical ability.

Now that we are playing intricate arrangements with experienced instructors and "bringing home the bacon" from most of our engagements, these people could further our potential are nowhere to be found!

After meeting and talking with many other senior corps, I find almost without exception that they have a full complement of true musicians. One of the corps who will participate in our competition tonight is made up primarily of high school music instructors and I understand an audition is a prerequisite to admittance into their corps.

Therefore, if you have the opportunity to see the competition, tonight and if it might generate the least bit of interest in this form of a hobby, please drop in to view a practice session any Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

We alternate practices between the American Legion Home and the V.F.W. As we represent both posts, we are in dire need of a larger corps guard which of course requires no musical background and the entire corps is in need of your help in each of the bugle sections and in the drum line.

If you have some talent, your membership and assistance will be sincerely appreciated. If you have no talent, but you have the interest, please do come down as we can assure you the opportunity to learn as many of our members have had no previous instruction.

The Pocono Mountains can boast of many fine organizations in many different fields. We feel we also do our part to be displayed on our drums and when we participate in parades in New Jersey, Maryland, New York and in Western Pennsylvania, we can hear the people commenting all along the sidelines about us coming from the Pocono Mountains.

We do it with a great deal of pride as we know we can feel proud of our record. However, with some more help we can become one of the finest. We may even reach the stage where we can enter the next class beyond ours and participate in the field as the corps you will see tonight.

There's no reason why we can't. It only requires the desire, the will and the manpower. We have the desire and the will but we need your help to provide the manpower.

Both Parties Back Call For Convention

Statement by Gov. William W. Scranton and quotes from leaders of both parties on signing of constitutional convention bill, Aug. 5, follow:

Governor Scranton said, "Revision of Pennsylvania's outdated constitution was a Republican Party platform pledge and an action which I wholeheartedly support."

"The Constitution of 1874 must be brought up-to-date."

"There is a state debt limit of one million dollars and restrictions on borrowing by municipalities. This is why we have resorted to the authority system of financing. This authority system costs the state and the taxpayers more money unnecessarily."

Former Governors James H. Duff, Republican, and George M. Leader, Democrat, sent the following messages:

Duff . . . "A new constitution for Pennsylvania is long overdue. I am strongly in favor of a constitutional convention."

Leader . . . "I think it is a splendid thing and am most pleased Governor Scranton is giving it his wholehearted support."

United States Senators Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, and Hugh Scott, Republican, had made the following comments:

Scott . . . "I am convinced that Pennsylvania desperately needs a new Constitution."

Clark . . . "This is a matter above party or special interest. In November every voter should vote Yes for a Constitutional Convention and Constitutional reform."

Former Governors David L. Lawrence, Democrat, and John Fine, Republican, added their support:

Lawrence . . . "I am strongly in favor of and support constitutional revision."

Fine . . . "I sincerely hope the voters follow through in November and set up a convention to rewrite our antiquated Constitution."

State Police File Charges

Trucker In Bridge Mishap

HAZLETON — State Police at Hazleton yesterday filed charges against Robert Cox, 38, of 221 Hudson St., Weatherly, for violation of bridge restrictions.

Cox, who is still a patient in Hazleton State General Hospital, was the driver of a stone-laden truck which crashed through the asphalt-covered wooden planks of the floor of a bridge carrying Route 940 over the Lehigh River between White Haven and East Side borough on Tuesday.

The bridge is posted for a 15-ton limit. State Highways Dept.

U. N. Aide To Speak To Rotarians

STROUDSBURG — Dr. Ibrahim Hammad, chief of the U.N. Section of the Arab States Delegation Office, New York City, will speak at the luncheon meeting of the Stroudsburg Rotary Club at noon Thursday in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Born in Nabulus, Palestine, in 1929, Hammad attended Najah National College and the American University of Beirut. He received his bachelor of law degree in 1953 and a certificate in finance and commerce in 1955 from the University of Baghdad.

He practiced law and worked in the tourist department of the Jordanian Ministry of Foreign Affairs until 1957, when he was awarded a Smith-Mundt scholarship to the Yale University Law School, receiving his master's degree in international law in 1959 and his doctorate in 1963.

He also attended courses at Bard College, University of California at Los Angeles Law School and Berkeley Law School.

He has traveled extensively in the Middle East and Western Europe and has visited 44 states and in Canada.

2 Area State Lakes To Be Drawn Down

HARRISBURG — Secretary of Forests and Waters Maurice K. Goddard announced yesterday that two state lakes in this area will be drawn down to facilitate work at the sites.

Promised Land State Park will be drawn down seven feet after Labor Day to permit the construction of a new beach at the camping area.

Hickory Run State Park lake will be drawn down 15 feet after Labor Day to permit the repairing of lifeguard chairs and mountings, and to clean up and grade parts of the under water beach. All work will be done by Forest and Waters personnel.

Smoking Seen Heart Stopper

STROUDSBURG — A new leaflet, "What About Smoking and Heart Diseases?" is being offered by the Northeastern Heart Assn., it was announced yesterday.

The pamphlet, which was developed by the Pennsylvania Heart Assn., indicates the concern of the American Heart Assn. for the increased evidence regarding the problem of smoking as it is related to certain heart diseases.

Statistical associations are graphically shown in the new pamphlet, which declares: "Death rates from heart attacks in middle-aged men are found to be from 50 to 150 per cent higher among heavy cigarette smokers."

Copies of the publication may be obtained without charge from local association headquarters.

Ens. Knubel, Rhodes Scholar Engaged To Vermont Senior

FANWOOD, N. J.—Mr. and Mrs. Stuart M. Truitt, of Fairfield, Conn., formerly of Fanwood, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Carole Marie Truitt, to Navy Ensign John A. Knubel, Jr., son of Mrs. John A. Knubel, of 867 Westfield Road, Scotch Plains, N. J., and the late Mr. Knubel.

Ens. Knubel is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Kistler, lifetime residents of East Stroudsburg where Mr. Kistler was associated with the East Stroudsburg National Bank for 35 years.

Miss Truitt is a graduate of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School and is a senior at the School of Nursing at the University of Vermont, Burlington. Kappa Alpha Theta is her sorority.

Ens. Knubel is a graduate of the same high school, attended Brown University and was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. He is in the Submarine Service based in New London, Conn.

In October he will leave to attend Oxford University in England as a Rhodes scholar.

Leisure Hour Picnic

Stroudsburg — Members of the Leisure Hour Club and their friends will meet at the YMCA in Stroudsburg at 2 p.m. on Wednesday when the Y Bus will take them to the East Stroudsburg Playgrounds for a meeting, games and picnic supper. Members are asked to bring a covered dish.

Bazaar Plans Set

The women of the Moose are making plans for their bazaar to be held Aug. 21 at Shaffer's Trailer Court, Milford Road. There will be fancy work, novelties and food including ice cream, hot dogs and hamburgers as well as many fun games.

The strips of rind from half a lemon or orange will be great things for a pound of prunes. Add the thin lemon or orange rind when you cook the soaked prunes.

Some good cooks like to start a turkey or chicken roasting with the breast down, then turn so that the breast is up during the last half of the roasting period.

Just Between Us—

by Bobby Westbrook

I take a lot of my pleasures, by proxy. For instance one giant dahlias on the window sill is my share in the Garden Club's pleasure in the whole garden with Russell and Marjorie Hamblin have created at their home in Arlington Heights.

It was a beautiful afternoon for buzzing around flowers and I took pleasure in the fact that the Garden Club was sort of returning to its beginnings. I can remember when all the summer meetings were held in the gardens of its members. Elaborate Gardens like Mrs.

heralded rescue operation on Thursday night.

Seems a visitor, unfamiliar with the river, took five small children out in a heavy rowboat, got caught in the current at Karamac at dusk and the whole boatload was carried, calling for help, down the rapids.

Tony Harlacher, spreading his life guard duties at Glenbrook into overtime, Jack Masters and a guest went to the rescue—which turned out to be very cold, very wet, but very successful.

If it hadn't, it would have made headlines. As it is, it's all in the day's work. But I still get a vicarious shiver when I think of all those children, the youngest two, the gathering dark, the swooping bats and that black current.

However, there's going to be nothing proxy about the coming weekend. I'm going on a bridge safari in person, and if it turns out anything like the last one, I wouldn't trade places with anybody.

Masters Hoods Are Accent In Mother-Daughter Outfits

Mrs. Mary Gearhart, of Stroudsburg, and her daughter, Peggy, earned their own special brand of mother-and-daughter outfits the hard way. They wore mortar boards and master's hoods to receive their Masters Degrees in Special Education at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, this month.

It has taken them five summers of attending the same classes, doing the same homework and taking the same tests together, and working toward the same goal.

Mrs. Gearhart has been teaching classes for the mentally handicapped in Stroud Union School District for 20 years. Her daughter, Margaret Dawson, has been teaching seven years in Allegheny County's program for Exceptional Children.

Their careers have paralleled each other. Both received their B. S. degrees in special education from Bloomsburg State College. Peggy, a graduate of Stroud Union High School in the class of 1961, was graduated from Bloomsburg in 1966.

Both have been active in Girl Scout work. Mrs. Gearhart since Peggy was herself a Girl Scout. Mrs. Dawson continued as an adult leader to four Allegheny County troops for retarded girls.

Both returned for graduate work for the same reasons.

"In a field of this kind, you need to grow," is the way Mrs. Gearhart put it. "You can't get into a rut and stay there and be a better teacher."

Mrs. Gearhart will be returning to her classes at Stroud Union, where she is also a cooperating teacher with East Stroudsburg State College and is a volunteer in the sheltered workshop program for the mentally deficient.

Peggy has accepted a new position in Cleveland.

Penny Supper Tonight At Swiftwater

Swiftwater — A Penny Supper tonight in the educational building of the Swiftwater Methodist Church will begin at 5 p.m. and will feature baked ham and fried chicken.

Plans to accommodate more people have been made, since the previous supper proved so popular that the food ran out.

Sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the church, proceeds will be used for church work. Mrs. John Hamblin is in charge of the supper. There will also be tables of novelties and handmade articles for sale.

Outdoor Art On Display Through Today

The Outdoor Art Show will continue today from dawn to dusk at the Court House Square. Actually the paintings spread out down Seventh Street and around the corners on Monroe.

Although not as large as the July show, there is a wide variety of techniques and subject matter for the crowds which have been inspecting the show, sponsored by the Pocono Mountains Art Group.

Peggy has accepted a new position in Cleveland.

Poppy Salesmen Guests At Picnic Meitzler

Newfoundland — Girl Scouts, Brownies, and the other children who sold poppies for the American Legion Auxiliary in May are invited to be the guests of the unit at a picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Donald Barnes, Sr., poppy chairman, in Angels.

The picnic will begin at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, August 17. In case of rain, it will be held at the American Legion Hall.

Summer Garden Setting For Gardeners Looking To Fall

Stroudsburg—Members of the Monroe County Garden Club had their cake and ate it, too, figuratively speaking, as they enjoyed the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Hamblin, Arlington Heights, while being prepared for moving plants indoors for the winter at their meeting on Thursday.

Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, horticulture chairman, demonstrated the planting of cuttings, both soft stem plants such as geraniums and other indoor plants, and the propagation of plants with hardwood stems such as azaleas and roses. She stressed the use of proper soil and potting methods. Cuttings from an azalea from the Hamblin Gardens who wanted to try propagation. This is also the time to plant seeds for some perennials and biennials and to collect plants for dried arrangements.

Mrs. Phelps pointed out that the business meeting when further details were announced for the Garden Club Convention to be held at Pocono Manor and urged to make their reservations before Sept. 5.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

It was rather a shock to walk past our Wyckoff windows the other day and see one of the mannequins move. Several other mannequins, all children, were standing sedately, modeling their Back to School clothes . . . but this one—a little fellow who had crawled into the window beside them—sat there, huddled into a tiny ball, with his thumb in his mouth.

He was so appealing, I couldn't resist learning more about him. I discovered he was Reuben Click's son, here with his Dad while Reuben laid the new white tile in the former Shoe Department. "He's a cute little fellow," Bob Iglar told me, "and you should see him work."

Sure enough, my next time 'round the youngster was having a wonderful time carrying small piles of tile to his father, handing them to him one at a time, and even putting a few in place. "Just look at him," Al Everett said, as we watched from the entrance. "He's having a ball." Bright eyed, he'd look up and grin broadly from time to time. There was a proud grin on Reuben's face too, which was perfectly understandable!

I have a sister-in-law who uses linen sheets. I hadn't thought about this for years, until Marlene Andrews looked up from her drawing board the other afternoon and said, "It's funny, isn't it?—we always talk about 'linens' for the home, yet sheets and towels and such are very rarely linen at all. I've never seen a linen sheet, have you?"

Frankly, I haven't, and can't say I particularly care to, anymore than I'd care to see silk on my bed. Luxurious they may be, but I can't imagine anything I'd care less to stretch out upon at night than a silk sheet.

At that precise moment, Dick Kishpaugh walked in, accompanied by an extremely personable young man with a broad smile, a pleasant manner, and a crew cut (he did remind me so much of a celebrity in profile view, but I just can't recall who!) who is a representative of Spring Mills, makers of those wonderful Springmaid muslins and percales. Springmaid hasn't a linen sheet on the market, he told us, but anyone who desires them can certainly find them in the larger city stores. However, his company does make a pima cotton sheet of a quality so superb it looks and feels like silk, and retails for just under six dollars. We do not stock it, but if a customer desires such luxury it is available!

In our conversation I learned a great deal about sheets, and thread counts, and discovered for the first time something common sense might have told me before but didn't . . . every time a sheet shrinks, the thread count per inch increases. Actually, one of the longest wearing muslin sheets has a lower thread count than many of the others, simply because a coarser, tougher, less refined fiber is used. These sheets, used by motels, hospitals, and such, may grow even coarser with laundering because of the detergent retention—another thing I'd never considered — unless very thoroughly rinsed.

The Springmaid representative tells me he'll talk sheets on the radio one day . . . but not discussing whiter than white (after bleaching, the sheets are further whitened with dye!) or wear, because housewives today are less interested in these things than in decorating with color. When he talks, he'll concentrate upon the use of color in bedroom linens—the subject most appealing to the young bride and homemaker.

These Recipes Don't Need Fingertips; Watch Yours And Other Kitchen Perils

By Linda Pipher
Daily Record Home Economist

I won't mention any names, but I remember a girl telling me about a pizza she baked. After she had the sauce and cheese on, she slid into the oven, minus a pan underneath. She had pizza to eat, and a nice mess to clean up on the bottom of her oven. Then I remember the time one of my ninth grade students put three tablespoons of baking powder into the cupcake batter instead of three teaspoons. When the black smoke pouring out of the oven forced us to open it up, there was nothing there but the pan. Each would-be cupcake had exploded and burned into nothing.

These are accidents to laugh about, but unfortunately there are many accidents in the kitchen that are not laughable. Thirty thousand people are killed each year as the result of accidents in the homes of the United States, and many, many of these happen in the kitchen.

Just this week I read that two children were suffocated to death when climbing in an abandoned freezer; the lid closed and they were unable to get out. The National Safety Council has urged and urged that if you have an empty refrigerator or freezer you should remove the door so that it does not appeal to fun-seeking small children.

In the last month, a local woman was severely burned when the grease in a deep fat fryer caught fire. In trying to carry it outside, she slipped and fell and her clothing caught fire. Never let butter, shortening, or oil heat unless you are watching it; in the time it takes you to answer a phone call it can reach the burning point if the heat is too high. If it ever does catch fire, dump baking soda, flour, or cornstarch immediately into the pan to extinguish the flame; water will not put it out. And never attempt to cover it, for as soon as you uncover it, the flames will ignite again, as soon as it is in contact with air.

If you're canning this year, be careful that the kettles filled with boiling water have flat bottoms so that they will not tip easily, and be sure the handles are pointed toward the back of the stove. The jars must be sterilized and the food must be cooked the required length of time for bacteria not killed can grow even in a sealed jar, causing spoilage.

Don't make your kitchen an accident trap; it pays to practice basic safety rules. When you chop the vegetables for the following recipes, use a sharp knife; it's less dangerous than a dull one. Finger tips don't add to the flavor!

Chow Chow

1 peck (12½ pounds) green tomatoes
8 large onions
10 green bell peppers
3 tablespoons salt
6 hot peppers
1 quart vinegar
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon allspice
¼ teaspoon cloves
3 tablespoons dry mustard
few bay leaves
¼ cups sugar

Chop tomatoes, onions, peppers, together and cover with the salt; let stand overnight. Drain, add the hot peppers which have been chopped and the vinegar and spices (spices tied loosely in cheesecloth bag) and sugar; allow to boil slowly until tender (about 15 minutes).
Pack into sterilized jars and seal at once.

Here's another favorite for you to make this summer.

Picadillo

1 quart chopped cabbage
1 quart chopped green tomatoes
2 sweet red peppers
2 sweet green peppers
2 large onions
¼ cup salt
1½ cups vinegar
1½ cups water
2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard

1 teaspoon turmeric
1 teaspoon celery seed
Chop the cabbage, tomatoes, red and green peppers and onions. Mix with the salt and let stand overnight. Next morning, drain and press in cloth to remove all liquid possible. Boil vinegar, water, and sugar and spices in a mixture, bring to a boil and pour into sterilized jars and seal at once.

If you want to make Chili Sauce notice that the recipe calls for peeled tomatoes. Don't try to peel them with a knife—it will take you to doomsday! Dip them quickly in boiling water and the skins will slip off easily.

Chili Sauce

1 gallon (6½ pounds) ripe tomatoes (peel and core before measuring)
2-3 cup chopped white onions
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon nutmeg, grated
¾ teaspoon tobacco sauce
½ teaspoon curry powder
2 cups vinegar
5 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mustard

Put tomatoes and onions through food chopper. Add all other ingredients and boil 2 hours or until thick, stirring frequently to prevent scorching. As soon as sauce is of desired consistency, pour into sterilized jars and seal at once. If desired, ¼ teaspoon of red pepper may be used instead of the tobacco sauce.

COLOR HIM BROWN—which is emerging as a top fashion color for men's fall suits. Above is a brown range in an iridescent worsted for business. A textured sportcoat mixing a rich shade of caramel brown with olive green and the classic elegance of a camel-hair cashmere topcoat.

Electronic Field Offers Varied Careers For Girls

By Roberta Fleming Roesch

I'm undecided about what I want to do for a career, but a lot of people have told me I ought to consider working with electronic computers if I want to get into a growing field, make a good salary and advance quickly.

I'm a little vague about this field, though, and so are my parents. Can you advise me on it?

G. W.

Growing Field

The world of electronics is definitely expanding all the time.

One large cash register firm, for example, now employs 600 young women compared to the 450 employed a year ago. Consequently, if you're looking for a new and challenging career the people who steered you toward computers are leading you to a good track.

In a job with electronic computers you'll more than likely be the back-up person, working with machines that miraculously add, subtract, equate, interpret and store information.

Your Work

To help the machines do this you'll be the specialist who surveys clients' needs, designs, new systems, writes programs for the machines and, in some cases, demonstrates machines and trains operators.

To qualify for a job in this field, you need above-average intelligence, a logical mind, high analytical and reasoning ability and mathematical inclinations. A college education, though not an absolute "must" for every job in the field, will be a help to you.

Big Boo-Boo

Dear Roberta Roesch: When it was too late to do anything about it I discovered I made a terrible mistake in a brand new job. The mistake won't show for several months, since it's involved in a future project, so frankly, I'm stymied on what to do about it.

I need this new job desperately, and I'm very much afraid that, if I admit my mistake right now, my boss may fire me since he hasn't known me long enough to know I'm really competent. On the other hand, if I play dumb for a while and wait until the error shows I may have established myself with him so he won't kick me off the job.

What would you say on this?

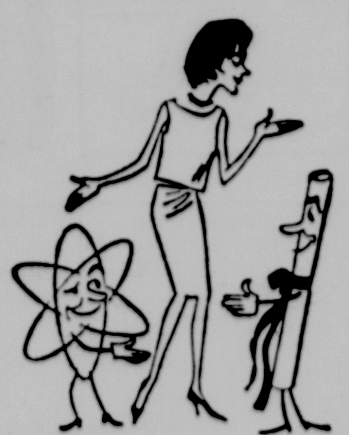

Mrs. F. R.

Dear Mrs. F. R.: As a new employee you have no foolproof way of knowing when a mistake will show. So why drag out admitting one?

Better To Be Honest

Everybody makes mistakes and every employer knows this. Consequently, there's a very good chance you won't lose your job overnight by being forthright and honest! And by admitting it when you're wrong you're very likely to gain the respect you'd lose by hiding an error.

So take a deep breath! Come

The September meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bertha Houser with Mrs. Mary Case and Mrs. Nellie Phillips in charge of devotions and program.

Brown Back In Favor In Menswear

Brown suits, which have been virtually in fashion eclipse since the war are making a strong comeback in the Fall fashion picture for men.

The new brown shades range from a deep, dark, rich chocolate shade intended to be worn with black accessories to a neutral blending of brown and gray, called "antelope" which can be worn with either black shoes or those in the new warm brown shades.

Camel is the glamour shade of the whole brown story and stars in sportswear and top-coatings. In sports it either reverts the classic look of the camel-hair coat now teamed with medium or light gray slacks or is combined with olive green, bronze, black or chocolate brown in strong masculine patterns like herringbones or plaids.

The camel topcoat, whether in the half-belted classic model or a dressier model with set-in-sleeves and a flat, notched collar is the glamour coat of the season, either in real camelhair or the camel-colored cashmere.

The new color range ranges from subtle of iridescent tones to pronounced patterns. Sports coats are more rugged and more textured with colors and bold patterns.

However, before you drag that pre-war brown suit you've been guarding against moths all these years, take a look at the present day cut.

Spring Byington To Star Next At Pocono Playhouse

MOUNTAINHOME — Spring Byington, TV's personality, will have the starring role in the comedy "The Curious Savage," which opens as the next attraction at Pocono Playhouse, Mountainhome, Monday evening, Aug. 19.

Miss Byington has long been one of America's favorite actresses and is best remembered by TV viewers for her starring role in "December Bride" for five years and more recently as one of the stars of the top-rated Western series "Laramie."

The eternally youthful actress has spent 27 years in movies and TV.

Prior to her entrance into films, she launched her Broadway career in "Beggars on Horseback" and followed with some 30 other appearances which included "The Merchant of Venice," "When Ladies Meet" and "Once in a Lifetime."

Her first movie role was "Marlene" in "Little Women" and she scored such personal triumph that she has since been featured in more than 75 top film roles.

In "The Curious Savage," Peter Glenville, the author, has written the tender story of a sweet, but slightly eccentric, elderly lady with a large fortune who has her own ideas of how to spend it.

Rather than to leave it to her avaricious step-children, she proposes to set up a fund to enable people to do the impractical things they have always yearned to do.

At this point, the step-children have their stepmother committed to a private sanitarium until she surrenders her millions to them.

When they discover that she is perfectly sane and having the time of her life carrying out her plans with other inmates, they hurriedly try to get her out. She refuses to leave and the real fun begins. It is a gentle and witty comedy that fits the sweet, graceful and pookish Spring Byington like a glove.

Others in the cast include Murial Williams, Russell Gold, Lelia Barry, Alfred Spindelman, Bill Story, Betty Low, John Ulmer, Virginia Chew, Gaylord Mason and Linda Lawin.

"The Curious Savage" is directed by Christopher Hewett and will continue through Saturday evening, August 24, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Reservations may be made by phoning 566-7456.

Arthur, a graduate of East Stroudsburg Joint Area High School, is enrolled in the College of Engineering at Penn State.

CFA Approves Work Grants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration has approved an accelerated public works grant of $28,200 to Somerset, Pa., for a $56,000 court-house renovation project.

It also approved a similar grant of $40,000 to North Versailles Township Sanitary Authority of Allegheny County, Pa., for construction of sanitary sewers estimated to cost $108,536.

The federal agency also announced it was advancing $54,000 for final planning of sewage treatment plant additions and improvements in New Castle, Pa. The project, all told, is expected to cost over $3 million.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Saturday, August 17, 1963

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — If you consolidate gains and reverse situations with one mind to accepting a different tack, where it is deemed best for all, you will far ahead of problems and are front with the sure winners.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Striking activity in some areas; less motion elsewhere. Keep your guard up, your wit sharp and maintain composure. Details need arranging.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Do not be frustrated or hurt at the inconsideration of others nor so quick to act that you yourself commit this. This is one of those days that brings tolerance, understanding and some strictness.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer) — Every sign must adhere to some restrictions now, and the person who waves aside rules and regulations, even "small" ones, will stumble upon unexpected obstacles, strong opposition.

July 22 to August 23 (Leo) — Don't jump at first suggestions; carefully evaluate all advice and plans. Use your brains and wits to bring out the effective and eliminate the useless.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — "Top grade" should apply to ALL your thinking, and follow up action should coincide. seldom does this fall in this department, but we all have "off" days. Don't let this be one.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You will find others in worse position than you now, no matter how poor you believe yours to be. But if you look more closely, you will discover numerous saving graces to this day. Restore some of your ambitions.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Day calls for the "wet" glove treatment, but no timidities. Fear of failure is another temptation to avoid. Look up. Look sharp, look for the good things — you shall find them.

November 24 to December 31 (Sagittarius) — Scan Scorpio and Aries. Your aspects indicate a similar day, and ask your very earnest, no-manner and mood. No money lapses or rancor should deter the real progress you can achieve through intelligence.

December 32 to January 30 (Capricorn) — Stop your self against indecision, lack of proper ambition, career, home and other activities will gain through friendly cooperation, sure knowledge, safe procedures.

January 31 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Handled carefully, activities having to do with modern equipment, aviation, electronics, medicine, new studies, animals, entertainment offer sweeping opportunities for advancement.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Study situations carefully; make certain before you embark on anything. Planets favorable enough, but there are many conflicting opinions and attitudes about, so double your guard.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Your BOEN TODAY have strong characteristics, a will to live fully and see as many of life's wonders as you can. So long as not crossed, you think and act promptly, but may slow up or reverse yourself without really knowing why when opposed. Curb this trait; accept opposition more matter-of-factly. Also, maintain your naturally sunny disposition and serve for your occupation. Many strategists, diplomats, philanthropists and bankers were born under Leo. Crockett, Amer. frontiersman.

Woman's Tar-Feathering Backfiring Racial Hoax

WALNUT, Calif. (AP) — A woman who was tarred and feathered and set afire in a burning house admitted yesterday the incident was a hoax, sheriff's deputies reported.

The scheme was contrived to create a phony racial incident and prevent condemnation of the house by the City of Walnut, investigators said. But the woman, who allegedly set the victim afire, Mrs. Louise Smith, 25, an employee of the Lewises, said they were looked on suspicion of conspiracy and arson.

The victim, Mrs. Katherine Harwell, 26, will be charged with the same counts, detectives said. Det. Chief Floyd W. Rosenberg said.

When Jackson refused to take part in the scheme, Mrs. Harwell, volunteered to be the victim.

Mrs. Harwell suffered burns over 35 per cent of her body.

When firemen rescued Mrs. Harwell, she said three white men had tarred and feathered her and set the house afire when they found her working in the house with a Negro handyman.

Water Shortage In Gap

DELAWARE WATER GAP — Willard Kitchen, chairman of the borough council's water committee, yesterday said, "Yes, there is a water shortage in the borough. However, if people continue to cooperate by not using water to wash cars, sprinkle lawns or other outside usages we will be alright."

A representative of The Daily Record inspected the reservoir yesterday at 4:30 p.m. and found the water about one inch from the top. Water was also pouring into the reservoir from the catch basin.

Marsh Files Writ Answer To Tanchyn

STROUDSBURG — An answer to a petition for a writ of certiorari by John Tanchyn, 44-year-old Scranton man convicted in 1961 on two counts of involuntary manslaughter, was filed yesterday by James R. Marsh, Monroe County district attorney.

Tanchyn had begun serving a six to 12 months sentence in Monroe County jail when the U. S. Supreme Court ordered a stay of execution pending argument on the petition.

Marsh expects oral arguments to be heard in October. If granted, the writ would direct the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to forward records in the case for review by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Tanchyn was released from jail July 26 under $3,000 bail. He was convicted on an indictment charging that he caused the deaths of Llewellyn F. Andre, 49, Stroudsburg R. D. 3, and Mrs. Anna Evans, 48, of 878 White St. Stroud Township. Cars driven by Tanchyn and Andre collided April 29, 1961, on Route 611 about three miles north of Stroudsburg.

Tanchyn was sentenced by Judge Fred W. Davis after motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment had been denied.

The Pennsylvania Superior Court voted to affirm the conviction last March and the Pennsylvania Supreme Court refused to hear the case in May. A petition to postpone serving of the sentence pending an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court was denied by the state Supreme Court on July 2. Associate Justice William J. Brennan Jr., of the U.S. Supreme Court, signed the stay of execution.

Bangor CD Police Offer Services

BANGOR — The auxiliary police of the Bangor Civil Defense has announced that their services are available to all area organizations.

However, they stated that the requests he made one week in advance through the secretary, Grant Metzgar, 16 N. Main St., or the president, Donald Davies, Bangor R. 1.

The police will be on duty at the Blue Valley Farm Show next week and also operate a stand on the grounds.

Bangor Man's Funeral Today

BANGOR — Frank DeRenzis, 69, of 515 N. 7th St. Bangor, died Wednesday at Sacred Heart Hospital, Allentown after a week's illness.

Born in Roseto, Valtellina Italy, he was the son of Joseph and the late Theresa Bozzelli DeRenzis.

Mr. DeRenzis came to America in 1912, and was recently employed by the Summit Hill Gravel Co. until his retirement four years ago.

He was a member of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Roman Catholic Church in Roseto, and the St. Gabriel Lodge, Summit Hill.

In addition to his father, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Miglio DeRenzis; two daughters, Mrs. Theresa Runggerio, Bangor, and Mrs. Clara DiGiuseppi, Easton; three brothers, Albert, of Easton, Alfred, of Bangor, and Joseph of Summit Hill. Two sisters, Mrs. Carl Cimino and Mrs. Anthony Mariano, both of Bangor, and five grandchildren.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Never has there lived a man who accomplished all he wanted to do ... or went everywhere he meant to go.

Time and Distance like prison walls surround every life, ultimately frustrating man's hopes and dreams.

We are told that science is finding ways to multiply time, to divide distance. A gadget can save you an hour. A jet will cut your journey in half.

But should the day come when man can live to 150, and a round-trip to the moon will be called "commuting" — we'll still be living within the same walls ... time ... distance ...

In fact, the only hopes of mankind which ever reach beyond these walls are our religious beliefs. In our churches we come to know the Eternal, the Everywhere. Faith dissolves frustration.

Life is more than a quest for speed ... a conquest of space. Come to Church — and see!

Twin Bills For PMBL

DOUBLEHEADERS are the order of the day tomorrow for the Pocono Mountain Baseball League as the six-team circuit resumes its regular Sabbath play while making up rained-out contests from July 14.

Both West End and Stroudsburg — the loop's two front-runners — enjoy the advantage of

Kathy Ellis Sets Record In Butterfly

HIGH POINT, N. C. (AP)—Led by Kathy Ellis' word record for the 100-meter butterfly, America's women swim talent went on a four-for-five record binge Friday at the National AAU senior women's swimming championships.

In addition to Miss Ellis' 1:06.5 for the butterfly event, Donna DeVarona of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club shared top honors with her American mark of 2:31.8 for the 200-meter individual medley, an event for which world records are not recognized.

Rounding out the record onslaught were Jean Ann Dellekamp of the Indianapolis A.C., who won 1:20.7 for the 100-meter breaststroke for an American citizen's record, while the Los Angeles Athletic Club surprised by taking the 400-meter freestyle relay in 4:13.9, an American team record.

The official American record for the event is 4:08.9 set by the U.S. squad at the 1960 Olympics.

Only event that did not crack a record was the 400-meter freestyle, won by Robyn Johnson of the Northern Virginia A.C. in a thrilling duel with defending champion Carolyn House of the Los Angeles A.C.

Robyn won in 4:46.8 for her second title of the meet.

With only Saturday's finals remaining, the Los Angeles team, defending champions, held a one-point lead over favored Santa Clara in the team competition, with 42 points.

The Dodgers dissipated leads of 1-0, 3-1 and 6-4 before staging their winning rally on three singles, a passed ball, on error, a fielder's choice and Ron Fairly's sacrifice fly, wiping out a 7-6 Met lead.

The Dodgers built their early leads principally on home runs by starter Johnny Podres, Wally Moon and Frank Howard, while the Mets stayed in contention with Rod Kanehl's two-run shot in the second.

New York moved in front 7-6 with a three-run fifth inning, centered around Duke Snider's two-run pinch hit single that drove in the tying and leading runs.

Los Angeles 123 000 003—9 14 2 New York 120 000 000—7 11 1 Podres, Rowe (2), L. Sherry (5), Perranoski (7), Miller (9) and Roseboro; Craig, Bearnarth (4), and N. Sherry, Coleman (6), W. Perranoski 15-2, L. Bearnarth 2-4.

Home runs—Los Angeles, Podres (1), Moon (5), Howard (2), New York, Kanehl (1).

Bowling Meeting — The Industrial Bowling League will meet today at 2 p.m. in Harmon's Recreation. All team captains and bowlers are requested to attend.

YMCA Swims — Coed recreational swim at the YMCA will be held from 2:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday until Sept. 7.

STROUDSBURG — Carl Cotts, ace hurler for the Stroudsburg A's, will be lost to the team for the Pocono Mountain Baseball League playoffs this season.

The Mountaineer mound star, who is employed by American Oil Co. in Lansdale, has been promoted to supervisor of production control in the company's new plant at Jackson, Tenn. He will assume his new duties Sept. 5.

Carl attended Barrett High School and Churchman Business College in Easton.

He has chalked up six victories against but two losses for the A's this season and has been a vital factor in the club's second-place standing in the PMBL.

playing their twin bills on home soil. The league-leading West Enders of Coach Wes Shafer are host to Bushkill while coach Dick Miller's A's entertain the Lakers of Saylorsburg. Last-place Bowmanstown travels to Reenders for the other set.

In the West End-Bushkill doubleheader, the league's top hurler (West End's John Churetta) will face the circuit's leading batter (Bushkill's Denny Patti).

128 Strikeouts Churetta, who has chalked up an excellent 11-1 record, has hurled 99 and two-thirds innings in striking out 128 batters while issuing only 32 walks.

Patti, the slugging left fielder of Bushkill, is currently hitting at a torrid .46 pace with 24 hits in 59 at-bats. He has scored nine runs and batted in eight others.

West End's Floyd (Red) Kresge, however, trails Patti by a mere two percentage points. Kresge is socking the ball at a .40 clip with 27 hits in 68 trips. He has 26 RBIs — best in the league — and has scored 18 runs. Thus, the league batting leadership could well change hands in that doubleheader.

Sommers Socking Another contender for top batting honors is Stroudsburg's Jack Sommers who is belting the ball at an even .400 clip with 26 hits in 65 appearances while chalking up 21 RBIs and scoring 15 runs. He, too, could take over the loop leadership in his two games against Saylorsburg.

The A's have a firm grip on second place with a four-game margin over their nearest rivals, Bushkill. But the S-burg squad remains two-and-a-half games back of the Gilbert nine which has virtually sewed up another successful defense of a first-place finish.

Saylorsburg, although 10 games off the pace, doesn't figure to be a pushover for the A's, however. The Lakers have just dug themselves from the depths of the league cellar and with only a one-game edge over their new successors, Bowmanstown, do not relish being thrown back into the bottom rung.

Near Fourth The Lakers also are only one game from fourth — the last spot for a playoff berth — and have much at stake in this battle.

This also holds true for Reenders, current holders of that precarious fourth-place slot. A double victory for Reenders over last-place Bowmanstown would assure their grip on fourth.

Among the top 10 batters in the league, West End has three while the Stroudsburg nine has four.

In addition to Kresge, West End also has Dean Lakatosh (.362) and Dick Schaller (.342). Besides Sommers, Stroudsburg has Charley Eden (.371), Hartley Paffenroth (.361), and Glenn Bisbing (.342).

Old Timers Play Tomorrow STROUDSBURG — Tomorrow afternoon's doubleheader between the Stroudsburg A's and Saylorsburg Lakers will be featured by a one-hour exhibition contest between the Anadomink Old Timers and Saylorsburg Old Timers.

The game will follow the first of the two Pocono Mountain Baseball League games which starts at 12:30 p.m.

Dick Miller, manager of the A's, said last night that 25 players will perform in the exhibition game.

A picnic for all the ballplayers and their families will follow the day's baseball activities at the Stroudsburg Playground. The picnic originally had been set for Pardee's Beach, but the site was switched because of the time element.

Late Thursday Night Baseball Baltimore .001 000 002—3 9 1 Minnesota .014 003 505—13 16 4 Pappas, Hall (3), Brunet (5), Stock (7), Starrette (8) and Orsino, Brown (8); Stange and Battey, Zimmerman (8), W-Stange 6-3, L-Pappas 11-8.

Home runs—Minnesota, Mincher (13), Allison (20), Hall (20).

Bowling Meeting — The Industrial Bowling League will meet today at 2 p.m. in Harmon's Recreation. All team captains and bowlers are requested to attend.

YMCA Swims — Coed recreational swim at the YMCA will be held from 2:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday until Sept. 7.

STROUDSBURG — Carl Cotts, ace hurler for the Stroudsburg A's, will be lost to the team for the Pocono Mountain Baseball League playoffs this season.

He has chalked up six victories against but two losses for the A's this season and has been a vital factor in the club's second-place standing in the PMBL.

HELPING HAND FOR DADDY—Mary Colleen and Eddie Kelly, Jr., children of trainer E. I. Kelly, visit with Brookfield Farm's Inside Story in his stall at the Atlantic City Race Course. The son of Turn-To will be under silks in the better allowance races at the resort track.

Travers Stakes Features Races

Six 3-year-olds headed by Candy Spots, Chateaugay and Never Bend tangle Saturday in the 94th running of the Travers Stakes at Saratoga, while Carry Back hits the comeback trail in the Buckeye Handicap at Randall Park against eight rivals.

The entire Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple crown scramble returns for certain calls in the $75,000 added Travers, which could settle the 3-year-old championship.

Back To Stud? Carry Back, out of action since he ran third in the Washington D.C. International last November at Laurel, is at another crossroads. If he shows well, he'll continue racing, but otherwise the 1961 Derby and Preakness winners returns permanently to stud.

Fifteen fillies and mares headed by top weighted Table Mate from the Kerr Stable with 124 pounds were entered for the $75,000 Arlington Matron Handicap.

Bosox Swat Tribe

BOSTON (AP)—Home runs by Lu Clinton, Felix Mantilla and Carl Yastrzemski powered the Boston Red Sox to a 7-4 victory over Cleveland Friday night.

The Indians chased Red Sox starter Bob Heffner in the ninth after late inning home runs by Johnny Romano and Larry Brown had closed the gap. Reliever Dick Radatz came in with two men on and one out and cut off the budding rally.

Mantilla and Clinton connected off loser Jack Krulik for a 4-1 Red Sox lead in the first inning.

Solo Drive Yastrzemski's solo drive started a three-run sixth in which Frank Malone's double and a grounder by Heffner accounted for the other scores.

Heffner gave up a run-scoring double by Vic Davallillo with two out in the first inning, then retired 15 men in order before Cleveland got its second hit, a single by Tito Francona. Romano hit a bases empty homer in the seventh and Brown connected with a man aboard in the eighth.

Cleveland 100 000 120—4 9 2 Boston 100 003 008—7 7 0 Kralich, Walker (1), Wynn (7), Bell (8) and Romano; Heffner; Radatz (9) and Tillman; W-Heffner 3-3, L-Kralich 10-12.

Home runs—Cleveland, Romano (8), Brown (2), Boston, Mantilla (2), Clinton (17), Yastrzemski (12).

Eagles Honor B. R. Champs STROUDSBURG — Eagles Aerie 1106 entertained the Eagles ball team, winners of the Monroe County Babe Ruth League, at a supper in the Eagles home Thursday evening.

Fifteen ballplayers were feted along with officers of the team and league. The affair was under the direction of William Chamberlain, entertainment chairman, and Clarence Edinger, president.

The meal was served by "Water Gap Tony."

Eagles officials also announced they will send the team to see the St. Louis Cardinals-Phillies game at Philadelphia Aug. 31.

No Ghosts Of 1962

Alston Sure Dodgers Will Win Pennant

NEW YORK (AP)—If the Los Angeles Dodgers are on the verge of panic or beginning to see ghosts of their great 1962 collapse, you can't tell it from talking with Manager Walt Alston.

"We're sure we're going to win the pennant," the tall, soft-spoken former school teacher from Butler County, Ohio, said Friday before launching the weekend series with Casey Stengel's Mets at the Polo Grounds.

"We've been in a little slump, sure. But, physically, we're in good shape. We're not tired or discouraged. We're not getting jittery. We're convinced we've got the club to do it."

The Dodgers—particularly their manager, whose job is said to hinge on winning the National League flag this year—might be evasive a little uneasily at this stage of the game.

Less than a month ago, on July 20, they were riding high, with a 7½-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals and 10 full games over their old rivals, the San Francisco Giants. Now the Giants are blowing hot steam on their heels, just three games back through Thursday's play, with the Cardinals only five away.

It was the Giants who stole the pennant from under the Dodgers' noses in the final days of the season last year when Los Angeles appeared to have the championship clinched.

What has been responsible for the Dodgers' recent slump — an 11-13 record since July 20?

"We haven't been putting our hitting and pitching together," the manager said. "But that's an old complaint. Take Sandy Koufax—against the Cubs a couple of weeks ago he pitches a nine-inning shutout, but we can't get him any runs. In his next two starts, we hit the ball but he doesn't have his stuff. That's the way it goes."

Butts' Attorney Blasts Magazine

ATLANTA (AP) — An attorney for Wally Butts argued before a federal court jury Friday that the Saturday Evening Post ruined Butts' reputation with charges he rigged a football game.

A Post attorney told the jury that Butts himself already had lost his character as a giant in the coaching profession.

The lawyers sought to persuade the 12 men who will begin deliberations Monday in Butts' $10 million libel suit against the Post's publishers.

"The Saturday Evening Post has apparently gone into the business of buying libel suits," said Allen Lockerman, one of Butts' lawyers.

"They have got untold millions of dollars in publicity," Lockerman argued. "That's what they want."

Butts sued Curtis Publishing Co. after a March 23 Post article charged that he and Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama rigged the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game.

Wellborn B. Coby, Curtis attorney, told the jury Butts had not lived up to the standard of conduct required of him as coach and later athletic director.

In 1960, Coby said, Butts was permitted to resign as head foot-

Osuna Surprises Chuck McKinley

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rafael Osuna of Mexico won the opening match of the American Zone Davis Cup tennis semifinal in sweltering heat Friday, defeating America's favored Chuck McKinley 6-2, 3-6, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, and dealing a serious blow to American hopes.

Temperamental Dennis Ralston met Mexico's Antonio Palafox in the second match, aiming to get the United States an even split on the day.

Little Trouble Osuna had little trouble in barging out to a 2-1 lead after three sets and Wimbledon champion McKinley appeared to be wilting in the heat that soared to 114 degrees.

The American, however, bounded back in his usual acrobatic style after a 10 minute rest following the third set and swept up to a quick 4-0 lead in the fourth set, faltered briefly, then broke Osuna again and won it on his own booming serve in the eighth game.

It appeared that Osuna was pacing himself in the fourth set after the American had built the lead, saving himself for the clinching fifth set.

Costs In He broke the bounding McKinley in the sixth game and then virtually coasted in on a beautiful net game, picking up many of his vital points with soft placements far out of McKinley's reach.

The service break in the sixth game was the only one of the final set and turned out to be the key.

Bertha Undecided Most of the berths are still undecided, but first round pairings already have been announced.

The South will take on the West, Europe will oppose the Pacific (Japan, Guam, Okinawa etc.), the East will battle Canada and Latin America will take on the North.

Meanwhile, the city of Williamsport is bracing for an expected 70,000 visitors during the baseball extravaganza.

As in the past, local citizens will serve as hosts for each of the teams during their stay. Swim parties, movies and "bull" sessions with former big league players are among the many activities planned for the youngsters.

Capping the week-long festivities will be a trip to the nation's Capital for all the teams. The Little League crop of champions are to be received by President Kennedy, visit members of Congress, attend a big league game at D.C. Stadium as guests of the Washington Senators, and take a trip through the Smithsonian Institution.

George Bayer rallied with a blazing 65 for a 134 total. And one stroke farther back were Billy Casper, with 67-68-135, Art Wall Jr., 69-66-135, and Lionel Hebert, 69-66-135.

Both Jack Nicklaus, the 23-year-old PGA and Masters champion, and Julius Boros, 43, the National Open winner and a Con-form after disappointing first round scores.

The husky Nicklaus posted a 67 to go with his previous 73 for a 140, and Boros added a 65 to his first round 74 for a 139.

See Tax Break For Pros

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Pete Retzlaff, president of the National Football League Players Association, said Friday he was "delighted" with the introduction in the U.S. Senate of a bill designed to give professional athletes a tax break.

The bill was introduced in the Senate Thursday by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., second ranking member of the Senate Finance Committee.

"Sen. Long has always been extremely knowledgeable and sympathetic concerning the problems of professional athletes," Retzlaff said here, where he is training with the Philadelphia Eagles for the National Football League season.

Sets Formula The bill establishes a formula whereby a professional athlete's yearly taxes would be based upon the average life span of his career. For example if the average life span of a pro football player is five years he would receive a one-fifth deduction or 20 per cent on his annual income tax for five years.
